Tips, advice and suggestions needed for new book

Donna Cardillo, author of "Your first Year as a Nurse" is working on her 3rd book which will be targeted to new graduate nurses. She is looking for some one- or two-line tips, inspirations, reflections and advice. Donna would love to have as many as possible from new and recent graduates but welcomes other comments as well. You can send her a few lines or a paragraph. It can be on anything from self-care, getting along with co-workers, things you wish someone would have told you, staying organized, a time when you know you made a difference, or even sometimes feeling lost and overwhelmed.

If you want to contribute and she uses what you send, you will be mentioned in the acknowledgment section of the book. Please e-mail Donna personally at donna@dcardillo.com.
